

Human intuition

Contributed by Bediuzzaman Said Nursi
Saturday, 21 January 2006

Man feels many intuitions and emotions, which are a sort of messages from immaterial realms. Among them, the intuition of eternity arouses in man a desire for eternity, for the fulfillment of which he strives in diverse ways. However, this desire can only be realized through belief in and worship of the Eternal One Who inspired this intuition and desire in man. It is in the satisfaction of this desire for eternity that true human happiness lies.